tapewo.com launches international e-recruitment site helping make the perfect match between employers and candidates tapewo today announced the launch of tapewo.com, talented people at work, an intuitive e-recruitment site aimed at facilitating the recruitment process.

“Recruiting can be a costly process and even more so if it is not done well.” This was the initial observation and challenge for Rémi de Saignes and Christophe Pierson, co-founders of tapewo. Coupled with the high number of jobs that remain unfilled, this has led to the conception of a unique intelligent job board that actually helps to make the match between recruiters and candidates.

Offering in-depth search criteria built upon over 5000 categories of jobs, the site simultaneously links knowledge, qualifications and life skills with 555 personalized character traits, helping to define the most accurate candidate profile.

Tapewo orders search results by best match to recruiters’ requirements, plus offers recruiter-generated competency checks and allows candidates to track their application status.

The site is fully international, and functions across both French and English with results displayed automatically translated into both languages. The site is set to see the addition of further languages in the coming weeks.

About tapewo
